Disclaimer & Terms of Use

NotesHub is an independent educational platform created to help students access study materials in an organized and user-friendly manner. While we aim to provide accurate and helpful academic resources, we do not guarantee that all content on this platform is completely error-free or updated at all times.

The materials provided on NotesHub may include notes, previous question papers, subject references, or academic resources collected from various public and educational sources. These materials are shared only for learning and reference purposes.

NotesHub is not officially affiliated with any university, board, or academic institution unless explicitly stated. All university names, logos, and academic references belong to their respective owners.

We do not claim ownership of copyrighted academic content unless clearly mentioned. If any organization or individual believes that their copyrighted content has been shared improperly, they may contact us for prompt review and removal if required.

NotesHub will not be held responsible for:

- Any academic loss caused by incorrect or outdated information
- Loss of data, results, marks, or exam-related misunderstandings
- Technical interruptions, website downtime, or service delays
- Any reliance placed on the materials available on this platform

Students are strongly advised to verify important academic information such as syllabus updates, exam schedules, and official notices directly from their university or institute websites.

By using NotesHub, you acknowledge and agree to this disclaimer policy and accept that the platform is intended purely as a supportive educational tool.
